Keeping Up With Torrance High

By RUTH CRANGER

The vacancy on the student board of control has been filled for the balance of this semester by the appointment of Lester Bottoms, a popular senior. A letter's name was handed in originally with high recommendations but he was not selected as it was hoped to select a junior who would have a longer time to serve. In recognition of the fine group of 112 students who felt they were not represented on the student board of control, Lester, class president, was appointed. He deserves heartfelt congratulations in view of the fact that his selection is wholly an honor to his class and to himself and not because of the possibility of a longer term of service.

Three representatives of the Torrance Girls' League, Jayne Traller, president; Laurella Lancaster, secretary; and Miss Parks, sponsor, were guests of Los Angeles High at the annual Girls' League convention which was held Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10. The convention was attended by representatives of all the high schools of Southern California and of some parts of Arizona, and the Torrance people had a most interesting as well as helpful visit.

A fascinating account of relief work during and after the World War by Miss Crozier of Belmont High featured the World Friendship Club meeting, Monday night, November 6. One of the most interesting things Miss Crozier told of was the peace parade in Paris on July 14, after the war. The parade, she said, took six hours to pass one point, and people paid highly for seats on lamp posts, stop indicators and trees. Since most of the club members are of German descent, a German flag was displayed by Jean Burger, which she and several others made as the first part of a flag-making project the club is carrying out this year.

Miss Jones, the typing teacher, reports that there were five perfect tests in her typing classes last week. In semester IV, typing, Joy Heggie typed 59 words and Verma Long 45.5 words per minute for 10 minutes. In semester III, Ruth Colburn made 45 words, and in semester II, Ruth Specht made 47 words and Geneva Andrews 32 words. This is quite a record, and the girls are to be congratulated.

NEW SEWING SOCIETY FORMED

Mrs. Janet Woodington, 2013 Arlington avenue, was hostess to Mesdames Florence Buck, Geneva Nelson, Alberta Phillips, Ella Quigley, Catherine Phillips, Flora Watkins, George Colburn, Carrie Nourse and Emma Evans, at a potluck luncheon on Friday, November 9. A sewing society was organized to take care of relief work. Mrs. Geneva Nelson was appointed chairman. The group will meet on the second Friday of each month at Mrs. Woodington's home.

at Narbonne High School

Dr. Louis P. Crutcher, president of the state board of education and prominent Long Beach physician, will be the speaker at the scholarship recognition assembly to be held at Narbonne, November 27. Joyce Bunge, president of the society, will introduce the speaker and be in charge of the program. Darrell Harline and Alton Bergstrom will furnish music for the assembly.

The senior A's of Narbonne made merry at their second party of the term, Thursday evening, November 8, in the school cafeteria. In the way of entertainment, the game of "bunco" proved a form of amusement to the students and their faculty guests. First prize went to Nondus Stump, while Jane Byham received consolation prize.

Dorothy Springman won first prize in musical chairs. Dancing was also enjoyed.

Refreshments of sandwiches, hot chocolate, pumpkin pie, potato chips, olives and pickles made up the appetizing menu.

Students in Mrs. Brinkerhoff's advanced public speaking class are starting to work on speeches for the oratorical contest sponsored by the Los Angeles Herald-Express. The subject is based on compositions and essays written for the "Leaders of Tomorrow" contest which was sponsored by the Bank of America.

The finals at Narbonne will be held late in November, with the winner representing the school in the final meet in December.

Winifred Mulken and Helen Hart represented Narbonne at a Girls' League convention held at the Ebell Club in Los Angeles, November 9. Miss Wylie, student body faculty adviser, was also present.

That Armistice Day should serve to help us remember the horrors of the World War and not remind us to prepare for greater wars, was the statement of Mr. Davis, a Long Beach attorney and war veteran, in a speech before the Narbonne student body, November 8. The occasion was a special assembly in observance of Armistice Day.

Mr. Davis was preceded on the program by Mrs. Schroeder, president of the Harbor City P. T. A., who gave a reading on Armistice Day. After the program, taps were sounded by Benny Airey.

Major C. H. Schoof, world traveler and lecturer, will be the speaker at an assembly, December 3, at Narbonne. The speaker will bring with him trophies he received when he served as fish, game and fire warden in British Columbia.

The major was special war correspondent for the Los Angeles Herald during the World War. In March, 1914, he brought back the first story of the bloody battle in which Pancho Villa's army drove the Mexican federal army across the Rio Grande into Texas.

Major Schoof also served as sergeant-major of the mounted border police of a fort in South Africa.
